OFFICE OVER CHEDIO'S DRUG STORE

Residence at house formerly occupied by Marshall Robinson.

OFFICE HOURS:—9 to 11 A. M. to 3 P. M. mh1

ALL SORTS.

—Wizard Oil at Geo. Thaxter's.
—There is a rushing business at the stock yards.

—FOR SALE.—A first class square piano. Inquire at this office.

—The stock market, except at the South end is awfully slumpy.

—The finder of post office key 170 will please leave it at this office.

—The Renoites talk of raising the saloon license to $300 a quarter.

—"Kathleen Mavrouren" will be the next venture of the Dramatic Club.

—It is reported that the Carson Guard will go to Reno on the 4th.

—Robert Anderson is in jail for drunkenness. He has eight more days to serve.

—Bob Christy wants a Society Gold Medal given at the Fair for the most rapid boot black.

—The Women's Art and Industrial Association will meet in the Arlington Parlors this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—FOR SALE.—A large roomy residence in the Western part of the city. Fine location. Apply at this office.

—Cagwin & Noteware's is the headquarters of people who want a fine grade of fishing tackle at reduced prices.

—A cyclone at Grand Fork, Dakota, blew down several houses. Four people were killed. Loss, $100,000.

—Independence, Inyo county, is talking of a new paper. The town doesn't more than half support the one they have now.

—Reno wants a candle factory. Reno knows that it can never hold a candle to Carson with out it starts one of its own.

—Buffalo Bill has been the first American who has had the gall to go over to England and rope members of the royal family in as supes for his show.

—By the burning of a steamer on Lake Michigan, Thursday night, the passengers were compelled to jump overboard, and twenty drowned.

—Jim Townsend is out against the whiskey sold at Bowers' Mansion picnics. He don't object to the amount sold, he simply kicks at the execrable quality.

—Mayor Playter of Oakland, a strict Methodist, has refused to rent a house to Mrs. Langtry. The Jersey Lilly will find landlords less exacting if she comes to Carson.

—The APPEAL acknowledges the receipt of and invitation to be present at the closing exercises of Bishop Whittaker's School for Girls. Commencement Day is June 22nd.

—A stranger in Reno was thrown from a buggy and nearly killed. When he came to a doctor was at his side who remarked that as soon as he could sell him a town lot he would set his arm.

—Michael Davitt said a wise thing when he remarked that every American Working man was interested in the Irish cause, for if it failed it would flood the United States with pauper labor.

—The Southern Pacific Company are running excursion trains to Mt. Shasta from San Francisco and Sacramento on Saturdays, returning on Mondays. Shortly these excursions will be extended to Tahoe and Truckee.

—Oakland is convulsed over the fact that a leading school director and married man with a family was seen coming out of a lady school teacher's room at 5 in the morning. Early rising appears to be at a discount in Oakland.

—Jake Sharp, the New York brawler, must be very guilty. He has engaged 20 lawyers to defend him. The people have to place their sole dependence on twelve jurymen. While Sharp is being tried it costs him $1,000 a day.

—Four thousand Hungarians who went on a strike in a Pennsylvania coal region a few weeks since, have concluded to return to work. Had the corporation employed 3,000 Americans it would have had the work done better and no strikes.

CARSON AND RENO.

Some Pain Words From the News Reporter.

That the country back of Carson is gradually building up, there can be no mistake.—APPEAL.

To which the News Reporter adds: No, there can be no mistake about it. It is building up, but so gradually that the improvements attract no attention. There is just as good agricultural ground in the vicinity of Carson as there is on the Truckee Meadows. Yet Reno advances while Carson stands still.

What is the reason? Very simple. When the people of Reno see an opportunity to better themselves and their town at the cost of a little money or effort, they embrace it. Personal differences and strifes are sunk and all join hands in any enterprise which will induce capital and people to come to them.

Carson stands still because its citizens are all fighting each other, rendering united action impossible. A genuine penny wise and pound foolish policy has become second nature to the residents of the capital city. Let it be whispered that capital is seeking investment at Carson and the business men of that burg begin to lay wires to see which of them can secure the largest part of the prospective boodle.

Instead of clubbing together and offering the man of money inducements to come and establish himself in their midst, donating him a lot and making him welcome, they each tell him what mean people their neighbors are, try to sell him a lot at twice its value and make the stranger think he has got into a nest of human jackals. The Carson Valley has resources as well as the Truckee Valley, and it has a powerful and willing agent in the Carson APPEAL. That paper has persistently set forth the claims of Carson and shown conclusively that Carson should grow just as fast as Reno.

The APPEAL advocated the building of reduction works. Carsonites read what it had to say, approved it, and hoped somebody would do something about it. The Reno papers took up the idea, said Reno ought to have reduction works. Renoites read and approved, called a public meeting, opened subscription book, advertised the scheme and finally got the works. We might cite numerous instances showing how Reno has improved herself at Carson's expense but it would be useless. Carson will not advance an inch in the march of progress until some of the fossilized old residents turn up their toes and give way to men in accord with the ideas of the present century.

Let it not be said hereafter that the News Reporter is partial to Reno and "down on" Carson. The more prosperous Carson is the better it is for Dayton; therefore we would like to see Carson boom. She should boom, and it is her own fault that she don't. Let Carsonites throw off a little of their shoddy aristocracy and take on a little enterprise and she will not long be in the rear of her rival, Reno.

Bold Advertisers.

While a great hue and cry is being raised against certain tobacco firms for the manner in which they thrust "loud" pictures before the public, nothing in the loud picture line can hold a candle to the Pear Soap Company.

A while ago the leading magazine contained a picture of a lady in a bath tub reaching out for a cake of Pear's Soap. She was about half way out. She was a very modest looking lady, however, and the country survived the shock. In the last numbers of the magazines, however, the lady is clear out of the bath, dripping wet and hunting a towel. Still, she is a nice, quiet looking lady, and no one feels called upon to raise a row about it. Pear's Soap is for sale at Thaxter's.

The Warren Blow Out.

Last evening the hall of the Warrens was filled with jolly fireman and the invited guests, to celebrate their 24th Anniversary and also the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill. The table was spread with good things and the refreshments on tap resulted in lots of good feeling, songs and toasts. Constable Sterns, on Warren and his acts at Bunker Hill, brought down the house. As the APPEAL goes to press the hilarity is at its height, with a prospect of running until morning.

A Soldier on Cleveland.

The Sacramento Bee publishes the following.

EDITORS BEE:—Anything that Cleveland might do need not surprise any one. Every outline of his person, every lineament of his countenance, shows him to be a gluttonous old hog, incapable of the keener sensibilities of the refined gentleman. It is surprising how dwarfed a soul may still remain in a man, even though exalted to the position of President of this Republic. Cleveland's sole object is to vent his spleen against the Grand Army of the Republic, because they would not consent to boom him for a second term at St. Louis. And his aim is to retaliate by insulting them in as violent a manner as possible. Cleveland, by this act, will lose all the soldier vote he got in his election, and gain the lasting detestation of all decent, loyal and patriotic citizens. Sac., June 16. A VETERAN.

Mackay's Politics.

In answer to questions on the possibility of Governor Stanford's candidacy for the Presidency, put by a Gazette reporter, John Mackay said that the Governor was an able man and would make a very good President; but our Pacific Coast has not sufficient population to justify the nomination of its distinguished men. We are still young. Besides, he continued, Senator Allison, of Iowa, is a very strong clean handed man, who represents the Great West. The extreme East and South as well as our people have as yet but an imperfect knowledge of the teeming population of the West properly so-called. I would not be surprised to see him elected over President Cleveland or any other man the Democracy may nominate." Mr. Mackay left on this morning's train for New York to remain for two weeks, whence he will go to Europe to be absent for two months.

A Lesson from Nature.

The last earthquake should have opened the eyes of the people of this State. In scores of places water has burst out of the earthquake fissures and begun to naturally irrigate the land. In the Como range water is pouring out of a hill two hundred feet above the plain. In Humboldt county scores of springs have been rocked into life by the sway of the earthquake. Hundreds of springs in Nevada have doubled in flow. All this means that a vast water bed underlies the geological formation of this State. By tunnelling the mountain and sinking artesian wells the water can be found and utilized. The wealthy men of Nevada ought to combine and sink a 5,000 foot well as an experiment. The chances are that they would find immense quantities of water before they reached 1,000 feet.

A Good Appointment.

H. H. Bence the Surveyor has received the appointment by Col. Irish to survey a very large area of land commencing a little East of Virginia City in Township 17 North Range 20 East, and continuing in a North-Easterly direction to the Sink of Carson and the Central Pacific Railroad about where it enters Humboldt county. The survey will cover Forty Mile Desert, and includes seventeen townships in all. The boundaries of these townships are all laid out, but no divisional survey of them has ever been made.

Mr. Bence is one of the most careful surveyors in the State and the job will be a very lucrative one to him.

They Sang Praises.

At the last Episcopal Convention in California it was discovered that the Diocese (which by the way embraced some of the wealthiest men in the country) was in debt to Bishop Kip about $12,000. They finally screwed the Bishop down to $7,500 and on his agreeing to accept the compromise the report adds, "the Convention joyously arose and sang the Gloria in Excelsis." It would appear to an outside business observer that a Diocese that had gone into bankruptcy and compromised with its creditors for less than 60 cents on the dollar, had more occasion to sing the Miserere in B. flat.

—Mr. Walters, of the London Times, is to be rewarded by the Queen when the Jubilee comes off, with a peerage. This is to show the Queen's appreciation for the Times' articles on "Parnellism and Crime." This is indeed royal recognition of good solid lying.
